Moatasm Olyan

has successfully completed the online Specialization

Autodesk CAD/CAM for Manufacturing

Through this specialization, learners were introduced to the latest technology trends across the manufacturing industry, including computer-aided design (CAD) and computer-aided manufacturing (CAM). Learners explored the manufacturing process in depth, and completed hands-on projects for practice of important skills, including CAD, CAM, and toolpath creation. Learners demonstrated creative confidence and practiced job ready CAD and CAM skills in order to become competent users of Autodesk® Fusion 360™ in a digital manufacturing environment.
